SWXBL PLAYING FORMAT

1v1 X-Ball

A fast-paced, head-to-head competition featuring two individual players battling through a six-minute match. Players score points by eliminating their opponent or forcing a concession, competing point after point until time expires or a four-point mercy rule is reached. The player with the highest score wins.

SWXBL utilizes a split-deck format, alternating between two independent matches on a single field. Each match has its own clock, allowing competitors time to reload, reset, and prepare between points.

Every competitor is guaranteed three preliminary matches before advancing to single-elimination playoffs, where it's win or go home.
